Mo,

Jim phoned shortly after you did. He should pull in any minute. We then have other matters to occupy us.

If you go to Mexico City and only if you do I would appreciate xeroxes of the city directory for the actual years (as distinguished from the dates on the directory) 1972 backward for the building in which the Banco Internacional branch on the Paseo de la Reforma is.

This is in confidence. It is Watergate stuff.

There is much that is not known.

When I was ill and did not know it, while I was working on all the things I work on, including then two books that have since appeared and preparing for the May evidentiary hearing, I drafted an overly-long, tendentious and angry book I've never ready, The Unimpeachment of Richard Nixon. In parts it may even be gibberish. But in fact it will be solid.
